The Enemy's Design.

The following is from the Kansas City Journal of Sept. 19: "Many of Reed's political followers and well wishes have announced publicly that he personally solicited Shannon to accept the chairmanship after the latter had time and again declared that he did not want it. Those familiar with the feud that has for years existed between Reed and Shannon are surprised over the acrobatic stunt 'of the greatest spellbinder of them all,' and they are figuring that the millenium is here, but who is the gainer by this very latest political matrimonial stunt even the most expert computer of political dope cannot say. Time alone will have to supply the answer. The friends of Shannon say he will not be the loser. He is a foxy one, knows the political game as well as he does the alphabet and is credited with being a better judge of men than Reed, although he is not as prolific of speech.

"Way down in his heart it is not believed that Shannon is for Reed, and that if he was left footloose and followed his own bent he would be for Francis. Right here is where the fine Italian hand of 'Bill' Phelps, the political wizard of Carthage, is discernible on the wall. Phelps hates Francis cordially, and has been waiting for a long time to get a whack at the St. Louis man of millions. It is no secret that Phelps blames Francis for having put him temporarily on the political shelf. Shannon is and always has been a political bedfellow to Phelps, and is yet. They understood each other thoroughly, and it is safe to assume that in view of the long partnership that Shannon will be passively, if not actively, for Reed as against Francis. But Shannon will not admit it. As has before been stated he is foxy.

BITTER FIGHT IS ON.

"There is no disguising of the fact, however, that the defeat of Francis in the chairmanship controversy and the platform indorsement of Folk for president has precipitated the Democracy of Missouri in a bitter fight. Francis didn't want Folk indorsed, and above all he did not want Shannon for state chairman. Republicans are welcoming the split, and as everything is fair in politics, will do all they can to push it along. Out in the rural districts stories keep coming in of dissatisfaction over the choice of Shannon and it is not inferred that Francis and his adherents will take the trouble to minimize the disturbed conditions. Scouts are out shelling the woods to get a line on the situation, and Shannon will know today just how really bad it is.

In truth the boasted harmony among Missouri Democrats does not exist."

The above is the view which the Kansas City Journal takes of the Democratic situation in Missouri; and we reproduce it in order to call the attention of the supporters of the Senatorial candidates, as well as the candidates themselves, to the absolute necessity which demands that the pledges of harmony made at the Harmony Convention on the eighth of January at Kansas City, be kept in both spirit and letter.

It is natural that Bill Phelps and his influence should be adverse to the success of Mr. Francis because they represent diverse views both in morals and politics, and the Intelligencer believes that the harder Bill Phelps and his friends fight Francis, the more will the people of Missouri love him.

Each days developments in this campaign prove that he has been solely actuated by the desire to strengthen and harmonize the Democratic party of the state and his speeches and every act have tended to allay faction and to discountenance whatever tends to division and disruption.

Mr. Francis will continue to so act as to deserve and to secure the support of true Democrats who place the supremacy of principle above personal and selfish interests.

His every act and speech proves the purity and unselfishness of the man and furnishes conclusive evidence that he will not be diverted from a clean Democratic campaign; and that he depends upon no combination, clique or intrigue for success.

The Intelligencer heartily commends his course to the Democratic party and especially calls attention to the hope which the enemies of the party entertain that Missouri may be carried in November for the Republicans through Democratic division and discord.

Let every Democrat in the state follow the dignified and patriotic example of Mr. Francis and stamp out everything which goes to divide Democratic councils.

The above article from the Journal should have the effect of closing up our ranks so as to present an unbroken front to the enemy.

As we understand the Journal's article it attempts to show that the executive authority of the Democratic party is committed to the control of Bill Phelps, the arch-enemy of Francis and political decency, and thus divide and weaken Democratic strength; but neither Mr. Francis nor his supporters in this campaign have been affected by the taunts and innuendoes of his opponents within the Democratic party, and certainly it is vain for Republican newspapers to aim at Democratic discord in manner and matter of the Journal's article. Again, we commend to all Democrats, whether supporters of Mr. Francis or not, that they adopt his course in this campaign and aid in bringing about an old-fashioned Democratic majority in Missouri.

Thieves That Robbed Geo. Nasser's Store Caught.

Tuesday Marshal Price arrested Tom Workupp and Roy Gilmore, both negroes, charged with breaking into Geo. Nasser's store about three weeks ago and securing between $100 and $200 worth of goods. They were taken before Prosecuting Attorney, C. A. Keith, where both plead guilty and were bound over to the action of the criminal court. About $10 worth of stolen jewelry was all that was recovered.

After the robbery they went to Kansas City and broke into another store, stealing goods amounting to about $185. Needing cash they pawned the goods and while in the act were arrested by Kansas City officers but broke jail and returned to Lexington where they were immediately nabbed.

Mrs. John Hutchinson of Kansas City arrived Wednesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Wilcox.

Windows Unveiled.

Two beautiful memorial windows were unveiled at Murrell auditorium, Central College for Women Thursday. Each represented a noble woman who had much to do with Methodist history.

In the morning at 10 o'clock the window containing the picture of Susanna Wesley was unveiled, the main address being given by Bishop Denny. The program follows:

Hymn No. 626 Patmos....Storey Prayer

Psalm 84

Gloria Patri

Address: Susanna Wesley

Bishop Collins Denny, D. D.

Solo: O, Divine Redeemer....

Gounod

Mrs. A. W. Allen.

Benediction

Bishop Denny's address was one of the most impressive and eloquent ever delivered in the auditorium. He showed how Susanna Wesley had at all times maintained such a high ideal and so firmly implanted this ideal in the minds of her sons that their great work was only natural. Dr. Palmore, as president of the board of trustees unveiled the window.

At 2 p. m. the Frances E. Willard window was unveiled by Dr. Palmore, who also delivered the address. It was highly eulogistic and brought forth the magnificent work of the great woman. The afternoon's program follows:

Hymn: Pilgrims....Smart Prayer

Address: Frances E. Willard

Rev. W. B. Palmore, D. D.

Vocal: The Rose of Yestereven....

Rich

The Year's at the Spring

Beach

Miss Norma Comer.

These two windows with the new decorations of the auditorium add much to the attractiveness of the college. Central is one of the most beautifully situated institutions of learning in the country. Its material and physical possibilities as well as moral and educational arouse its friends to enthusiasm.

Large audiences were present at both meetings and showed great interest in the college.

The bridal couple stood under an arch topped by a dove bearing an olive branch. The house was beautifully decorated in pink and white. Pink and white astors being used in profusion. The bride was gowned in white dutchess de marquet with pearl trimmings. She wore a tulle veil, and carried a shower of bride's roses and lilies-of-the-valley.
